LONDON, Sept. 15.—Suez, the Italian factor, at Milan, will not divulge the secret of his African health liquor, as he intends to take out a patent for it and expects to realize a few million francs profit from its sale. He claims that the liquor will become a staple drink among the poor. He says it will be sold cheap, so that a large family may afford to use it. It is a tonic of the blood, and is said to be the worth of liquor. Suez is visited daily by Duke, Prince, Senators, Deputies and hosts of foreign doctors. The strength is unimpaired.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Cholera is gaining ground in Austria. It is worst at Lyle, a village near Agrin. Although none of them have been on the warpath since Geronimo's capture, it was well understood they were furnishing his band with ammunition, and there was no telling what moment they might break out. For this reason the Government decided to ship them off to Florida, where they could do no harm. The weapon used was a pistol. The attempt to assassinate M. Bratiano produced great excitement among the people. A crowd surrounded the building occupied by the only newspaper here which has been opposing the Prime Minister, binning the editor for inciting the people to violence. This morning a large crowd was assembled at the police station, where the man who attempted to assassinate the Premier Bratiano was locked up, prepared to strike him when the police attempted to take him to court for arraignment and lynch him. The quarrel resulted in the shooting of Patrick Constantine and the fatal injury of "Paddy" Rocco, an Italian, whose skull was crushed with an ax. The riot was sequel to an attack made on Joseph Versard on Saturday evening. Versard had incurred the wrath of his neighbors on account of his marriage to an Irish woman. On his road home he was held up against a building and terribly beaten. Versard claimed to have recognized among his assailants Mike, John and Pat Daly. The victim dragged himself home more dead than alive. This afternoon a gag, headed by the Dalys, demanded admission to Versard's house. On being refused admittance the doors were burst open. Then followed a scene of riot and confusion. The frightened Italians were driven in every direction by the intruders, who numbered about twenty. "Paddy" Rocco finally turned on his pursuer, Mike Daly, fighting him savagely, when one of the gang struck Rocco on the head with an ax. His skull was laid open, exposing the brain. His injuries are pronounced fatal. The protestant form of Rocco, covered with blood, fringed the cloths, which fled. A shot was fired into the fleeing mob, and Patrick Constantine fell, the ball of a large caliber revolver having entered his back, passing nearly through his body, and from the effects of which he died at nine o'clock to-night. Democratic Ticket.
For Congress,
Garrett S. Wall,
of Mason.
For Board of Equalization,
CHARLES KITCHEN,
of Carter.

There is a rumor that Secretary Lamar is soon to be married.

It is said that the heirs of Samuel J. Tilden will contest the will.

George Gould, son of Jay Gould, has married an actress, Miss Edith Kingdon.

Mr. Jesse B. Barbee, brother to the editor of the Catlettsburg Leader, has connected himself with that paper.

Henry Waterson will return from Europe about November the first, and resume editorial work on the Courier-Journal. His health is entirely restored.

Charles Kitchen, the Democratic nominee for Member State Board of Equalization, has always followed such business pursuits as best qualify a man for the office he seeks.

Jas. G. Elaine, Jr., has married a Miss Nevins, a daughter of a prominent Democratic Ohio politician. She is only 15 years of age, and will go back to college to complete her education.

It is now generally conceded that we will soon have railway connection with eastern Virginia. Several companies are prospecting and it is believed that some of them will take decisive steps in the near future.

It seems that the Republican nomination for Congress will go to a beggar. After three men "de-lin-ing with thanks" Judge G. M. Thomas was nominated, and he has not yet accepted. We understand that another convention will be called.

Our people have great reasons to hope for the early development of the riches of the Sandy Valley. Capitalists are flocking here; some with an eye to the minerals with which our hills abound, while others are looking to the prospects for utilizing the inexhaustible supply of gas which has been discovered within our regions. The disclosure of these resources is something which materially interests every individual in the Sandy Valley. Therefore, let each of us make, if necessary, some sacrifice in order that this development may be started at once.

We notice considerable argument between some of our exchanges over the question of whether or not the last Legislature increased the marriage license fee to two dollars. It seems that they do not all agree in their interpretation of the law. The Frankfort Capital says:

"Upon consultation with the Auditor it is learned that he has advised the fee for marriage license has been increased to two dollars, and that the fee of fifty cents which is turned in the State revenue does not have anything to do with the fee of one dollar and a half, which goes to the Clerk of the County Court heretofore."

Senator Beck's Thoughtful Wife.
He is a warm-blooded, impulsive man, and when he spoke for twenty minutes on Saturday he was soon drenched with perspiration, and he sat down in a very uncomfortable plight. Just then a page came to his desk and told him that Mrs. Beck wished to see him in his committee room. Wondering what she wanted he went there and found her taking from a valise a change of clothing. She told him that after he had left for the Capitol she read in the morning paper that he was to speak and knowing how hot it was she concluded to bring him a change of clothing. The cool, dry garments were soon substituted for the wet attire, and the Senator, returning to the chamber, eulogized the forethought and care of his Kentucky wife.—Albany Evening Journal.

Brother Willson and the Republican Committee are widely wide of the mark in announcing Senator Sherman as the Acting Vice President of the United States. Senator Sherman, by virtue of his office as Acting President of the Senate, is no more in the line of Presidential succession than Brother Willson himself. If Mr. Cleveland should die to-day Secretary Bayard, and not Sherman, would succeed to the Presidency.—Courier-Journal.

Natural Gas.
Long as man has been on this planet, he has yet been aware of all that is on the earth, much less under it. Petroleum wells have a great antiquity, but it is only of late years that mineral oils have been found literally in hundreds of places. In boring for oil, natural gas has been discovered. A few years ago it was considered a marvel but to-day there are numerous holes in the earth through which gas flows in a never ceasing stream, nor is it to be found alone in the region south-east of Lake Erie. It has been discovered at so many different points that it is now beginning to be suspected that wherever coal is found, oil and gas are not far off. Natural gas has effected a revolution in the iron trade of Western Pennsylvania. Markets of steel new dispense with coal and save large sums by using gas; not only as an illuminant, but also as a fuel. There is reason to believe that our large cities will eventually be supplied with natural gas, brought in pipes from the regions where found, and which will be sold for half the price of coal.—Democrat's Monthly.

Hon. Jas. W. Tate, State Treasurer, was in attendance at the Fair on Friday. It was at the State Fair held here in October, 1886, that Mr. Tate first determined to become a candidate for Treasurer, a position which he has filled so well as to have been re-nominated ever since without opposition. The office is one of great responsibility, and Mr. Tate has discharged its duties faithfully. The State has never had a better or more efficient public officer, and having done so well in the past there is no occasion for any change. Mr. Tate has been a lifelong Democrat—one of the "old guard," a Democrat when the party was in a minority in the State, and when men were Democrats from conviction and not from any hope of political reward. He has served the State with fidelity; he is a man of integrity and of character, and as popular as any man in the State. The indications all point to his re-nomination by the Democratic State Convention next year.—Paris Kentuckian Citizen.

should be your crowning glory. Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the vitality and color of youth to hair that has become thin and faded; and, where the glands are not decayed or absorbed, will cause a new growth on bald heads.

MAY of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following from Mrs. G. Norlon, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy to-day as when I was 25."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 20 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

RENEWED and strengthened by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair regains its youthful color and vitality. Rev. H. P. Williamson, Davidson College, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the last ten years. It is an excellent preservative."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Dabman, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quantity."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures diseases of the scalp. F. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I had been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave me immediate relief, cleansed the scalp, and rendered the hair soft and pliable."

My sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding herbs and oils, and finding the medicine thus prepared, I fortunately discovered the WOODRUFF CURE FOR ASTHMA AND CATARRH, which warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of ASTHMA IN FIVE MINUTES, and that the patient could be down to rest and sleep comfortably. For Instant Use

As a reliable remedy, in cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, or sudden Colds, and for the prompt relief and cure of throat and lung diseases, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. E. G. Elderly, Council Bluffs, Iowa, writes: "I consider Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a most important remedy for home use. I have tested its curative power, in my family, many times during the past thirty years, and have never known it to fail. It will relieve the most serious affections of the throat and lungs, whether in children or adults." John H. Stoddard, Petersburg, Va., writes: "I have never found a medicine equal to

for the prompt relief of throat and lung diseases peculiar to children. I consider it an absolute cure for all such affections, and an ever without it in the house." Mrs. L. E. Herman, 187 Mercer St., Jersey City, writes: "I have always found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral useful in my family." B. T. Johnson, Mt. Savage, Md., writes: "For the speedy cure of sudden Colds, and for the relief of children afflicted with Croup, I have never found anything equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is the most potent of all the remedies I have ever used." W. H. Stickler, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured my wife of a severe lung affection, supposed to be quick consumption. We now regard the Pectoral as a household necessity." E. M. Hreckendridge, Bainbridge, Minn., writes: "I am subject to Bronchitis, and, wherever I go, am always sure to have a bottle of

with me. It is without a rival for the cure of Bronchial affections."

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Louisville Leaf Tobacco Market.
The market has been singularly inert and sluggish for the low and medium grades, which have constituted the bulk of the offerings. But the most provoking feature was not a sharp decline in prices, as none occurred, but rather the dullness and flabbiness of the market at the extreme depression which had been mainly established previously. In those grades and every thing nondescript of either type prices have softened somewhat, but at the close there is a steadier feeling, and we cannot reduce our quotations for any grade of either type. All that can be said is that prices have been nearer the inside limits of our quotations. From good medium leaf up, Barley tobacco has sold decidedly more favorably, good and fine cutters showing a rise of 75¢ to $1.00, good and fine flow 50¢ to $1.00, and good and fine flow 50¢ to $1.00. Dark and heavy styles of low and medium grades full under the foregoing report, while good and fine grades have been firm throughout. Crop advices have been favorable, and cutting is making good progress in some sections. We quote 1885 tobacco as follows, for full weight packages:

Dark and Heavy.	Barley.

Medium leaf.....	3.00 to 3.50

The largest pension ever paid in the United States was paid at the U. S. Pension Office, Louisville, a few days ago, by Pension Agent Buell, to Marcus D. Richardson, an aged soldier living at Milton. The cause for granting the pension is total blindness, brought on by injury to the eyes received in the war in 1863. The pension dates back to that year, and amounts to $11.50.

ANTHONY CAUTHER, a negro, who attempted to rape three little schoolgirls, was taken by a mob and hanged near the towers of the High Bridge. After his body was cut down it was riddled with bullets.

TYPHOID FEVER prevails almost as an epidemic in many localities of Louisville, and the physicians reported many fatal cases. The same disease prevails every year to a greater or less extent. Some of the doctors claim that it is due to the use of impure water caused by the use of old, half-decayed wooden pumps, while others claim that it is due to climatic influences.

The other evening Reuben Gray, a boy employed near Louisville, laid down on the grass and went to sleep. While he was sleeping another boy named Grant crept up to him and groaned in an uncouth manner. He was so frightened that he had convulsions, and on the 17th the physicians thought his recovery doubtful.

D. B. NIXON, a defeated candidate for jailer of Bath County, sued A. L. The Washington Critic tells the following story on a Kentucky Congressman: "Last Sunday Congressman McCrory, of Kentucky, was crossing the Kentucky river at Boonesboro, on his way to Lexington, and when the ferryboat reached the shore it swung away just as he was driving off, and Congressman, horse and buggy went down into the stream. The men on the ferry rushed to the rescue and soon took the entire rig in out of the water, and the trembling and excited ferryman grabbed his dripping passenger. 'Are you hurt, Governor? are you hurt?' he asked over and over again. 'Oh, no,' said the Governor with a soothing smile, 'not a particle. I don't think a drop of water got into my mouth.' 'Thank goodness,' exclaimed the ferryman as he reached him a black bottle. 'It will not spoil the joke to state that Governor McCrory is a practical temperance man, and does not tamper with black bottles at any time.'

After a short session the Louisville Presbytery adjourned until the second Tuesday in November. The trial of the Converse Brothers, publishers of the Christian Observer, charged with the violation of the Ninth Commandment, will then be resumed. The prosecution had not flashed its testimony.

YOUNG GOULD'S MARRIAGE.

New York, Sept. 16.—George Gould and his bride are not going on a wedding trip. The young couple will spend three weeks at Lindhurst, Jay Gould's summer home, after which George will buy a house in the city and attend to business as usual. There is no doubt that Jay Gould is very much pleased to see his son married. The young man's choice is in every way satisfactory to the family. Further details of the ceremony are as follows:

Miss Edith Kingdon, arrived with her mother on the steamship Servia from Liverpool on Monday, and the wedding took place at Jay Gould's residence at dusk Tuesday evening. Rev. Dr. Washington Choate, of the Presbyterian Church, presided at the ceremony, read the marriage service. Jay Gould, Mrs. Gould, George's two brothers, Edward and Howard, and his two sisters, and Mrs. Kingdon, the bride's mother, were the only persons present. Miss Kingdon and her mother quietly embarked at New York Tuesday noon on Jay Gould's yacht Atlanta, escorted by Mr. George Gould. At Lindhurst the party was met by Jay Gould himself with the family carriage. After the wedding a simple little lunch was spread, and the bride and her mother sat down to a half-hour's chat over the report with the groom's family and Jay Gould, who had been prompt to kiss her on the instant that the preacher's ceremony was over, toasted her health and happiness and all prosperity with the lineal heir of his choice. Happiness was linked all around the table.

Until seven o'clock the house remained closed, and visitors who handed in their cards were invited to call at another time. At that hour the family coach again appeared at the door. Mr. George Gould handed his newly-made wife and her mother into it, and the carriage rolled off to the depot to catch the 7:55 train. George and his bride returned to the city on the train, and drove directly to the residence of Mrs. Kingdon, in Thirty-fifth street.

It is rumored that Mr. Gould and Miss Kingdon were married in London about two months ago, and that the ceremony of Tuesday last was performed to avoid disagreeable gossip about an elopement or a forbidden union. Mr. Gould was in London on a pleasure trip at the time, while Miss Kingdon was a member of Dally's company now performing in the English metropolis.

THE SOCIALISTS.

A Campaign to be Inaugurated in America by Emigrants from Germany.

Baltimore, Conn., Sept. 15.—Dr. Edward Aveling, Fellow of the University College, London, and his wife, Eleanor Marx Aveling, the youngest daughter of Karl Marx, addressed an audience of some 2,000 people here Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Socialistic Labor party. Dr. Aveling, as a preliminary to his address, gave the following description of the Socialistic campaign in America, which Tuesday night meeting inaugurated. This party has a German and an American section, Herr Wilhelm Liebknecht, a member of the Reichstag and one of the leaders of the Socialist party in Germany, will speak in various parts of the United States during the next three months. To the American section Dr. and Mrs. Aveling will give addresses, with the special view of recruiting their numbers from the many labor organizations of America. The Socialistic agitators believe that many workmen, members of these organizations, are in ignorance, if not avowedly, Socialists. They hope to induce such men to openly avow their socialism, and, while by no means neglecting the objects for which the Knights of Labor, the Trades Unions, the Central Labor Union, and kindred organizations work, to regard these as only the means to an end. That end, from the point of view of the Socialists, should be the entire emancipation of labor in all lands from the domination of capital.

CHOLERA INCREASING.

It is Spreading Through Austria—Returns from Japan and Korea.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Cholera is gaining ground in Austria. It is worst at Lie, a village near Agram. Of the 500 inhabitants of the village ninety have been stricken and twenty-eight of them died almost immediately. The people distrust the doctors and conceal the sick as long as possible. Doctors are frequently stoned in the streets. In one house a mother and her daughter were found lying naked on the hard floor, writing in the night of death, and in another room lay the body of the father, upon which had been thrown the corpse of a son. The villagers are too frightened to help one another.

During the twenty-four hours ending at midnight Tuesday there were 16 new cases and 6 deaths at Trieste and 4 new cases and 2 deaths at Pesh. Turkey has established a five days' quarantine against all arrivals from Danube ports because of the existence of cholera at Buda-Pesth.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 16.—Japan advises that the total number of cholera cases since its first appearance this year is 59,000, of which 37,000 ended fatally.

The cholera is still raging at Seoul, Corea. In July there were 38,600 total cases out of a population of 250,000. At Shinshu 5,000 and at Torai 6,000 deaths in one month are reported.

Another Bond Call Issued.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The Acting Secretary of the Treasury late yesterday afternoon issued a call for $15,000,000 three percent bonds. The treasury officials are well satisfied with the results of the previous voluntary call, although barely $1,000,000 was redeemed under it, and have extended it indefinitely. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1885, the Secretary of the Treasury called $50,000,000 of bonds. The first call for the current fiscal year, $32,000,000 have been called and $1,000,000 redeemed by voluntary surrender. The amount of three per cent bonds outstanding and subject to call is $91,183,100.

FARM AND FIRESIDE.

—Salt should be eaten with nuts to aid digestion.—N. Y. Telegram.

—Widows Cake: One cup flour, two cups meal, half cup molasses, one teaspoonful saleratus, two cups sour milk, little salt.—Toledo Blade.

—Soda will clean unpainted sinks, tubs and floors. Rub soda and soap on all grease spots; wash with hot water and behold the results.—Cincinnati Times.

—The following are said to be the symptoms of hog cholera: Drooping ears, low-hanging head, diarrhoea, vomiting, rapid breath and an aversion to light.—Exchange.

—Hush, to be good—and it can be good—must not stew and simmer, and simmer and stew, but be heated through as quickly as possible and sent to the table at once.—The Caterer.

—Never serve potatoes, boiled or baked whole, in a closely-covered dish. They become sodden and clammy. Cover with a folded napkin that allows the steam to escape, or absorb the moisture.

—No farmer's wife ought to be too busy to give an hour or more, occasionally, to a few plants and flowers around the house. The place will look more "home-like" and make a more favorable impression upon observers.—Prairie Farmer.

—Fried Scallops: Wipe each roll in beaten egg, then in fine crumbs, and fry in hot lard or dripping to a light brown. Shake off the fat in a fine strainer and lay in rows on a hot dish. Garnish with parsley. Pass hot cream, mashed potato and cut lemon with them.—Boston Budget.

—Corn Cakes: Grate raw, green corn that is young and tender; to two cupsfuls of grated corn, add two tablespoonfuls of milk or cream, and three well-beaten eggs; salt to taste, and add a tablespoonful of melted butter, and three heaped tablespoonfuls of flour. Drop in spoonfuls on a hot, buttered griddle; brown one side and turn carefully with a broad griddle-cake shovel or "turner."—Cincinnati Times.

—Guinea fowls will go into a house to roost if they have been accustomed to it, though they like to choose a place for themselves, and have a decided liking for trees. It is necessary to keep them in pairs, as they are monogamous. They are not remarkably belligerent, but it is not advisable to confine them with other fowls.—F. F. and Stockman.

—If pork has ever soured or spoiled in a barrel, it is not safe to use it for pork again, no matter how thoroughly it may be cleansed. The cost of a new barrel warranted to preserve the pork is much less than the value of meat which it will hold. It is true the fault may not originally be in the barrel but rather in the modes of management, but having once spoiled a lot of pork the barrel had better hereafter be left to other uses.—Montreal Witness.

PRESERVED FRUITS.

An Important and Highly Supporting and Strengthening Food.

That making and selling fruit preserves of all kinds is to be a great industry in this country is beyond question. Very few have any idea of the traffic in sweet fruits, as well as the common dried ones. England alone imports nearly or quite three million pounds sterling in value of sugared fruits and preserves from the south of Europe, annually, and this country is not behind in proportion to its size. Our common people use far more currants, raisins and preserves than the same class in England.

Well-to-do families in New York and the West are falling into the habit of keeping a handsome glass or silver dish of confections and sugared or glass fruits on a side table where people can help themselves to a sweetmeat "when so disposed." Incessant nibbling at good things is ruinous to health, but when exercise or business have used up the fuel of the system more rapidly than usual, a bonbon may be very profitably enjoyed.

In all South American houses of the least pretension, the cut glass and silver basket of "delices" is as much part of the drawing-room order as flower-vases with us, and sweets are eaten with and after meals. Crystallized fruits appear at every meal, and this use of sugared confections undoubtedly has much to do with the better endurance of heat.

Sugar and fruits in hot countries and hot weather support the system as meat and fat foods do in cold climates. The French troops in Algeria learn this by experience, and depend on sugared sirups to prevent sunstroke and prostration on hot desert marches. Every oriental traveler of experience knows that sweet dates and honeyed confections, or grape juice mingled with sugar, as the Turks love it, keep up the strength, and fortify the nerves against prostration by heat better than any phosphate or medicine.

Men at work on a Wisconsin harvest field, when the heat is one hundred degrees in the shade for days together, will hardly feel discomfort if kept up by free draughts of the delicious, refreshing grape-sirup a few farinaceous wafers know the secret of—the principal thing in northern grape is good for. Our grandfathers knew this principle far enough to send huge jugs of "switchel" to the hot hay-fields; a drink of vinegar, ginger, molasses and water, which was a substitute for fruit sirup.

Barberry sirup is a sovereign prescription for consumptives of a scrofulous turn, taken by the gill, three or four times a day. Peach preserves with the flavor of the fruit and stones in them can be eaten by persons of poor digestion who could hardly digest common yeast bread, and peach preserve, made as it should be, is far better for the health than the common canned peach, slightly green and rancorous from its keeping. Apple-butter and elder apple-sauces are good substitutes for potatoes in working diet, and could be eaten at two of the three meals a day with benefit in season. Preserves are not a mere luxurious luxury; they are an important and highly supporting form of food.—Youth's Companion.

TOBACCO IN FRANCE.

Quantities of the Weed Consumed in Various European Countries.

Some interesting particulars are published by M. Paul Leroy-Beaulieu with regard to the manufacture and consumption of tobacco in France. He quotes official figures, which show that while the quantity of tobacco grown in France itself was about 19,200 tons in 1850, it has been gradually increasing until it is now nearly double that quantity, while the revenue which the state derives from it has increased from £3,555,000 to nearly £13,000,000. In other words, while the quantity of tobacco grown has only doubled, the profits of the state, or in other words, of the manufacturers, have nearly quadrupled. The great increase in profit is explained by M. Paul Leroy-Beaulieu upon the ground that the expense of manufacturing an additional quantity of tobacco is not anything like that of the first establishment of plant and material. The cultivation and manufacture of tobacco has been a Government monopoly since 1674, and, with the exception of a brief interval during the revolution, has remained so ever since. In this connection M. Paul Leroy-Beaulieu gives the following figures showing the quantity of tobacco consumed in the different countries of Europe, and the rate per 100 inhabitants is, according to him, as follows: Spain 110 pounds, Italy 128 pounds, Great Britain, 133 pounds, Russia 182 pounds, Hungary 207 pounds, France 210 pounds, Denmark 224 pounds, Norway 229 pounds, Austria 273 pounds, Germany 336 pounds, Holland 418 pounds and Belgium 560 pounds. In other words, while in Spain little more than one pound per head is consumed, nearly double that quantity is consumed in France, three times as much in Germany, four times as much in Holland and five times as much in Belgium.—Economist-Paris.

—It should be generally known that the mullets is a disease of a scrofulous nature generally produced from a torpid condition of the liver. The blood becomes impure because the liver does not act properly and work off the poison from the system and the certain results are blotches, pimples, eruptions, swellings, tumors, ulcers and kindred affections settling upon the lungs and poisoning the delicate tissues, until ulceration, breaking down, and consumption is established. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will, acting upon the liver and purifying the blood, cure all these diseases.
